PETER McGRATH VISITS FOR WILSON FOCUS WEEK!

Recently, Peter McGrath from Wilson Audio visited The Sound Environment for a Wilson Focus week. We spent three intensive days with Peter learning more about all the new Wilson speaker models especially the Sabrina and the Alexia. The visit culminated in Peter's presentation to a group of our customers. These presentations are always low key and informative. Peter played some of his own recordings, which is always a treat. All were impressed with the Alexia in our big system. They make the music come alive. Peter thought the sound we were making with our set up was second to none. Once again, Gale and Todd's speaker set up excelled.

A great presentation by Peter McGrath

Wilson Alexia

We learned a lot about the ability to exactly set the Alexia for your seating position. This is not a head in the vice idea but is a method that Dave Wilson devised and has refined over the years to make the wave front arrive simultaneously at all frequencies. The effect on the music of misaligning the mid-range and tweeter module is immediately obvious even sitting off the side. The sound with correct alignment is just more coherent and makes the performance make more sense.

The Alexia is a fairly large speaker. Not imposing the way some of the older Wilson models were but still significant. You should take the opportunity to come listen and enjoy. The Alexia is efficient and has great impact for pop, rock or classical music. It will play loud with low distortion with a moderate size power amplifier but will knock your socks off with a big one! The Alexia is a three way, four driver system encased in a very quiet and elegant cabinet. The Alexia are 53" tall and weigh 256 pound each. Its subtlety curved surfaces and small upper modules make it fit into a room environment very well. The Alexia is available in any color you choose. The price is $52,000 a pair in the standard colors installed and dialed in by Gale and Todd.

GALE AND TODD VISIT dCS IN ENGLAND!

Gale and Todd are on travel to dCS in Cambridge England this week. They will get phone and text messages and will return them as time allows.

If you need immediate attention call, text or E-mail Eric. You can reach him at 402-681-3801 or eric@soundenvironment.com

Gale and Todd will spend two days at dCS, learning more about the technology, the product and its careful production. They will give us a full report next week.

ELAC UNIFI BACK IN STOCK SOON!

We will have the amazing Uni-Fi bookshelf speakers from Elac back in stock soon! We still have the floorstanding and center channel models in stock. We expect the next shipment, including the bookshelf speakers, next week. The lineup consists of only three models: a bookshelf model at $499 a pair, a floor standing speaker at $998 a pair and a center channel speaker at $399. All are three way designs with Andrew Jones' revolutionary concentric mid-range and tweeter.

The Sound Environment trade up policy lets you start with a minimal investment and move up through all of the speakers we offer with no loss of investment.
